

presents...

Tom Hunter

“Again thanks for the reminder of the simplicity, beauty, and childlike wonder that happens when we dare to sing!!!”

“It’s hard to know if Tom is a little kid masquerading as an adult or an adult who has magically retained a view of the world from an eye-level of less than four feet! In either case, both generations are sure his music was meant just for them.”

“Thanks for putting a song back in my feet again.”